Republican Candidate For Lieutenant Governor.

Young Newspaper Man Who Is Receiving Much Encouragement Throughout the State.

Republican Primary Election, Tuesday, August 13, 1918.

Portsmouth, O .- (Special.) -Responding to the many urgent requests from the many prominent Republicans of the Sixth Congressional district assembled here upon invitation of the Scioto county Republican advisory committee, Editor Clarence J. Brown of West Union, O., finally consented to become a candidate for lieutenant governor and declared his candidacy in a ringing, patriotic speech at the big banquet which followed the ditsrict meeting.

The meeting was one of the largest and most enthusiastic gatherings of Republicans held in southwestern Ohio in recent years. Aside from Editor Brown's declaration of his candidacy for lieutenant governor, the seature of the meeting was the big debrant, having passed the state civil service examination at the head of the list of eligibles, and served two years before he resigned to accept the managing editorship of the "Record," a Republican newspaper published at West Union, O. Under his management the "Record" has been a marvelcus success in every way and has become recognized as one of the most loyal and influential Republican newspapers in southern Ohio. So active and satisfactory has been the "Record's" work in behalf of the various war bureaus that Editor Brown was especially commended by the Central Liberty Loan Committee of Cleveland, O., and the "Record" was selected as the model newspaper of Ohio in war work activities. As an evidence of his newspaper success in local matters, it is cited that since he assumed charge of the "Record' every county office in the county has been taken over by the Republicans for the first time in many years.

Editor Brown's candidacy for lieutenant governor is looked upon here as one which would add much strength to the state ticket, and it is a significant fact that he is the only candidate for this office which has the unanimous support of his own congressional district behind him. In addition to this local support, he is already receiving cordial assurances of support from throughout the state, his candidacy being especially pleasing to the newspapers generally, who realize this is the first opportunity they have had to secure an important state office for a fellow craftsman since Warren G. Harding was elected Heutenant governor in 1903. In speaking of Editor Brown's per sonality and ability, one of the distinguished old-line Republicans in attendance at the big meeting here remarked: "I regard Brown as the bestequipped and most promising young man I have encountered in state polltics since U. S. Senator Warren G. Harding became a candidate for lieutenant governor." So he is considered by the Republican county organizations of the Sixth Congressional ditarict and adjoining counties and as such he is commended by them to the favorable consideration of the Republican voters of the state.
